Three cheers for Room 204! Unit 8 test was very difficult and we did an awesome job! Much of what was on it was new skills and I think they rose to the challenge. If your child struggled, don't worry, these concepts will be repeated again. I still need to finish grading a few of them, so they will come home on Monday.

Many thanks to those of you who sent fabric in- we are working hard on our stories for our books. You will see them at Open House!

For the enclosed butterfly report-you and your child may pick any butterfly you would like to report on, EXCEPT the Painted Lady. We study that one in class. They are due Friday, May 16th. There are many informative websites on the internet. I hope you have fun with this!
